

The Bellamy Manucha Rehabilitation Applied Education Research Fellowship – At Providence

Deadline: August 12, 2024

Program Start Date: mid-October 2024

The Bellamy Manucha Rehabilitation Applied Education Research Fellowship – At Providence is a new donor-funded fellowship that will offer:

- Salary support (estimated 0.2-0.4 FTE) and project funding needs for 2-3 successful Fellows
- Focused research mentorship, and
- Professional development in applied education research within rehabilitation sciences and education

During the one-year fellowship, Fellows will complete an applied education research project under the supervision of one Applied Education Research Operatives (AERO) scientist and one individual representing either Providence or rehabilitation expertise. Fellows will also complete a curriculum in education and applied education research.

Fellows for the Bellamy Manucha Rehabilitation Applied Education Research Fellowship – At Providence can be clinicians and trainees from all healthcare professions, research employees (e.g., post-doctoral fellows), and other individuals involved in rehabilitation practice and education at Providence Healthcare.

Learn more about AERO

SCAN ME

SCAN ME

Apply for the fellowship